THE BOND ISSUE A GREAT SUCCESS.

The Bids Were Opened at the Treasury Department.

SUBSCRIPTIONS WERE MANY.

Pierpont Morgan Expects to Secure Sixty Percent of the Total Amount. The Price Will be in Excess of One Hundred and Ten.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Bids for $100,000,000 30-year 4 per cent United States bonds were opened at the treasury department at noon to-day under the conditions prescribed in the circular issued Jan. 6 last by Secretary Carlisle.

The bids were opened in the room of Secretary Carlisle. A large table was placed in the south end of the room overlooking the Potomac river and the Washington monument, at which sat Secretary Carlisle, Assistant Secretary Curtis and several clerks. In front of the desk were placed a number of chairs and every seat was taken by those who had come in person to present bids and many were compelled to stand. Hundreds of millions of dollars were represented. Nearly all those present as bidders came from New York, but there was a sprinkling of financiers and brokers from Chicago, Cincinnati and other western cities.

A large tin box was placed on the table before 12 o'clock. In contained the bids. They were done up by days, and upon each package was marked the date on which the bid was received.

The Bids Opened.

Under the immediate charge of Assistant Secretary Curtis, the following committee opened the bids: James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency, Daniel N. Morgan, United States treasurer, and A. T. Huntington, chief of the division of loans and currency, Secretary's office.

The treasury department was simply overwhelmed by the enormous number of bids received. With 15 expert clerks at work scheduling the bids at 6 o'clock tonight, they having worked incessantly since 10 o'clock this morning, 1200 bids remain unscheduled. They will be copied to-morrow.

J. P. Morgan's Offer.

The great feature of the bond bidding was the offer of J. P. Morgan's syndicate, which as now composed includes only his own banking house, the Deutsche bank of Berlin, Germany, and Harvey Fiske & Sons of New York. They proposed to take the entire issue at 110.01. Only one other bid of anything like that amount was received.

Mr. Pierpont Morgan, after figuring on the bids received, said to-night that he estimated that he would be awarded on his bids about 60 per cent of the hundred million. He reached this conclusion simply from hearing the various bids read, as he did not think that more than 60,000,000 bids above that figure had been made.

Scarcely more than one-third of the actual bids received are included in the imperfect list now published. Several thousand bids below the obvious limit of acceptance are omitted. Bids for many millions of dollars came from New York, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Texas, Illinois, Connecticut, Vermont, Maryland, Nebraska, Missouri, South Carolina, North Carolina, Indiana, Michigan, Louisiana, Washington (State), Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and in fact nearly every State of the Union thrown into the most incongruous state of juxtaposition, and quite a number of offers from Canada were received, at prices ranging from 109 downwards.

Many Small Bids.

The number of small bids was quite remarkable. The fifty-dollar offers ran up into the hundreds and at fairly good prices, and over one thousand small banks and private individuals whose offers at the highest rates of acceptability ranged from $200 up to $4,000 or $5,000 are not included in the list published.

The offers by the class of small bidders below the 110 and a fraction limit, which seems to shut off the issue, were still more numerous. An encouraging feature in these offers was that so many of those of large amount, ranging in many cases up to one or more millions of dollars, came from fiduciary institutions, which thereby indicated that they had a better outlet for their money than that afforded by the United States bonds at the price at which they will undoubtedly be awarded.

One of the curious incidents of the day was the fact that the bid of the Union Trust company of New York for $76,000,000 at 110.075 almost escaped notice in the monotony of the reading while the bid of the Morgan syndicate was received with applause.

Carlisle is Pleased.

Secretary Carlisle said he was extremely gratified at the response of the people to one government's appeal for subscriptions to the bond call. It simply showed that when the people were appealed to they would not fail to properly respond.

J. P. Morgan & Co., the National City bank of New York, the Deutsch bank of Berlin and Harvey Fiske & Sons of New York, bid as a syndicate for $100,000,000 of the bonds at 110.01. This was the largest amount included in any one bid.

The total amount of bids was 1,610, aggregating $681,239,850, but one bid of a hundred million dollars from a physician in Michigan, and one of sixteen millions from Texas are evidently bogus, and deducting these amounts leaves the aggregate of genuine bids, $581,239,850. The present issue of bonds is the fourth since Feb. 1, 1894, all of them having been made ostensibly to maintain the treasury gold reserve. The previous issues have been: February, 1894, $50,000,000; November, 1894, $62,000,000; February, 1895, $62,315,400.

Senatorial Comment.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The remarkable over-subscription for the bonds caused much comment among Senators this afternoon. Everybody agreed that the popular character of the loan was a pronounced success, and the prices bid occasioned some criticism of the agreement under which the syndicate of last February secured the bonds then sold. Even silver Senators who are opposed to any kind of bonds admitted the success of this issue, and praised the patriotism that caused the country to respond to the appeal of the administration.

The London News Approves.

London, Feb. 5.—The Daily News in an article commenting upon the subscriptions for the new American loan will to-morrow say:

"The manner in which the loan has been subscribed will repair the damage to the credit of the United States and will reestablish public confidence."

Against the Union.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—In Judge Brentano's court to-day the fight between the big clothing firm of Clement, Bane & Co. of Chicago, and the Clothing Cutters and Trimmers association of Chicago came up on the application of the firm to have the injunction against the local union restraining the members from interfering with the business, made permanent. According to the company's story, the fight, which began a year ago with a strike in the factory, has nearly resulted in the ruin of its business.

Austin Clement, of the firm, admitted to-day that during the fall of 1894, when small pox was raging in Sing Sing prison, the firm bought at least $30,000 worth of convict made goods, saying that other firms did the same. When asked if his foreman did not testify before the sweatshop committee that his firm did a business of $2,000,000 a year and 30 per cent of that was in convict made goods, the witness said they had tried to do that much business, but had not succeeded since Cleveland was elected President.

A BATTLE IN CUBA.

The Rebels Driven From a Town With Considerable Loss.

(From a Staff Correspondent of the U. P.)

Havana, Feb. 5.—The details of a fight Monday between the troops under General Luque and the rebels under Antonio Maceo have been received here. General Luque reports that the battle occurred in that year the town of Paso Real, province of Pinar Del Rio. Maceo was in chief command of the insurgents, his subordinate commanders being Miro, Suyas, Chileno and Meyer. When it was learned that the rebels were in Paso Real, General Luque gave orders for the troops to advance and attack the place. The soldiers entered the town by the main street, and found the rebels occupying the side streets and the houses. A galling fire was directed against the troops from the street, houses and roofs, but the rebels were finally driven to the eastern part of the town where they attempted to make a stand. In this they were successful and they then then retreated outside the town. The troops advanced upon them and found over a thousand rebels forming a line of battle in an open space. As the Spaniards moved forward they delivered volley fires as they moved from position to position. The rebel cavalry charged the troops with great valor and, despite the heavy fire directed against them, even reached the bayonets of the troops. The latter received the first charge while forming in line, but the second charge was received by the troops in circular groups.

General Luque says the troops sustained no machete wounds, while a number of rebels were wounded by bayonets. The troops finally dispersed the rebels pursuing them until darkness set in. The insurgents lost 62 killed while 200 of them are believed to have been wounded. General Luque was shot through the right leg. Major Jose Ruiz Perez of the regular army, and Major Louis Lopez Majorez of the civil guards were also wounded. Major Perez has since died. In addition to those, one captain, one lieutenant and 30 soldiers were wounded. Ollo of the wounded privates died shortly after the battle.

FAST TIME.

The Union Pacific Runs a Mile a Minute For 519 Miles.

Omaha, Feb. 5.—The Union Pacific overland flyer broke the record for fast running from Omaha to Cheyenne today, and demonstrates that the time can be cut down still further from Chicago to the coast by at least a few hours. The train left Omaha over four hours late, having been delayed east of the Missouri river, and arrived in Cheyenne only one hour late at 10:45 p. m., making the entire distance, 519 miles, in 10 hours and 30 minutes, including 21 stops and three changes of engines. The actual running time was one mile per minute for that distance. The gaining of time was made in the face of adverse conditions, and the time will be fully made up before morning.

SOUTHERN STORMS.

Terrific Rains and Winds in Mississippi and Alabama.

Jackson, Miss., Feb. 5.—This section was visited by a terrific rain storm last night and the already overflowed creeks and rivers have further extended their bounds, until all the low lands are covered. Pearl river is a sea of water extending from within a few feet of the capitol yard four miles into Rankin county, on the opposite side, and still rising. The Queen and Crescent tracks, though on a four foot embankment, are submerged in several places and are being carefully watched. Traffic has not been seriously interrupted, but it is feared it will be by morning. The rainfall Saturday night was reported 7½ inches, that of last night 6½ inches.

A Storm at Mobile.

Mobile, Ala., Feb. 5.—A severe storm from the north struck the upper part of Mobile this morning, unroofing a part of the Mobile and Ohio railroad freight shed and the elevated railway of the same company. The iron chimneys of five saw and shingle mills were blown down. Several vessels in the harbor dragged their anchors, but the blow was over in less than 10 minutes and no harm resulted.

Silver Delegates from Texas.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 5.—The State Democratic executive committee was in session here today. The silver caucus was attended by 13 members of the committee. Silver was victorious. It is likely that the majority of delegates to the national convention will be free silver men.

Conditionally For McKinley.

Carthage, Mo., Feb. 5.—A McKinley club of 300 members was formed in this city last night. The question came up and it was urged that he is a true bimetallist. Some of those who joined the club did so with the understanding that they are to withdraw if McKinley is not to be opposed to silver. The club has invited Mayor Walbridge of St. Louis and Maj. Warner of Kansas City to speak here about Feb. 22.

An Argument For Silver.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The Farmers' Alliance after a very brief session this morning, at which no business was transacted, adjourned to enable its committee to go before the House Banking and Currency Committee to present an argument for free coinage.

To Open a Reservation.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The Secretary of the Interior to-day decided upon May 1 next as the date of the opening of the agricultural lands of the Red Lake Indian reservation in Minnesota, which embraces about 800,000 acres and will be sold at $1.25 per acre.

Burned to Death.

Moberly, Mo., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Sarah Sharpless and his 15-year-old daughter were burned to death this morning. Their residence had taken fire and the father after rescuing his wife and two other children, went back for the girl, and in his overcome by smoke, perished with her. Sharpless was 47 years old.

The Riot in Italy.

Rome, Feb. 5.—News has reached Rocca di Papa that which occurred at Saldi, Piedmont, to-day, which assumed such serious proportions that the authorities were obliged to call upon the troops to restore order. The rioters refused to disperse when the troops reached the scene of the disturbance, and the soldiers were ordered to fire upon the mob which they did, killing five and wounding thirty.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Another Cuban Resolution Reported to the Senate.

THE HOUSE WAS KEPT BUSY.

A Bill Passed Prohibiting Prize Fights in the Territories. An Evening Session to Consider the Senate Free Coinage Substitute.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The concurrent resolution which the Senate Foreign Affairs Committee reported last week requesting the President of the United States to use his influence with the government of Spain to recognize the Cuban revolutionists as belligerents, was practically set aside to-day by a substitute reported from the same committee by Mr. Morgan of Alabama. The substitute recognizes a condition of public war in Cuba, and declares that the United States shall maintain a strict impartiality between the contending powers, and shall accord to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports of the United States. The resolution is on the Vice President's table, and may be taken up for action to-morrow.

The joint resolution directing the Secretary of Agriculture to carry into effect the provisions of the agricultural appropriation for the current fiscal year, for the purchase and distribution of seeds and farmers' bulletins, was taken up and discussed during the morning hour. Mr. Vest (Dem.) of Missouri made one of his characteristic speeches in support of the joint resolution, holding up the Secretary of Agriculture to ridicule in connection with the said question, and with the Secretary's condemnation of the free silver movement.

"The Devil," Mr. Vest said, "had owed the Democratic party a grudge and had paid it to a Secretary of Agriculture, who had put the party in antagonism to the great agricultural interests of the country which had been heretofore particularly close to the Democratic organization."

In conclusion he gave a humorous description of Secretary Morton swinging his golden censer, filled with incense at the executive mansion, shouting, "Holy, holy, art thou, Oh, Grover, King of Kings and Lord of Lords."

The joint resolution went over without action, and the rest of the discussion of resolution to distribute the appropriation bills among the several committees having charge of the subject.

The resolution did not reach a vote and the Senate at 6:03 p. m. adjourned until to-morrow.

HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 5.—An unusual and what was said an unprecedented event occurred in the House to-day. A general appropriation (that of the District of Columbia) was defeated in a body containing 150 majority upon the side of the majority of the committee from which the bill was reported, by a vote of 143 to 18. The reason for this defeat was two-fold; the Democratic minority voted solidly against it, aided by those Republicans who opposed the insertion of any appropriations for secular and private, charitable institutions in the district. This result was secured amidst the most exciting scenes that have been witnessed on the floor for this Congress, and apparently out of all proportions to the importance and magnitude of the matter involved; but underneath the surface the feeling was prevalent that the influence of the vote would be far reaching in the approaching political contest. After a time the Republicans came together upon a motion by Mr. Grosvenor (Rep.) of Ohio to reconsider the vote, all that was done. Then the bill was recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations with instructions to revise the schedule of appropriations for charities. Before that motion was adopted Mr. Crisp (Dem.) of Georgia sarcastically congratulated the Republican majority upon its capacity for contingency to do the public business, asserting that whatever might have been the shortcomings and failures of the Democrats upon which the Speaker when on the floor had often reminded them; they had never got into such a state of imbecility that they could not frame and pass an ordinary appropriation bill.

In order to prevent the series of prize and bull fights advertised to begin on the 14th inst. near El Paso, Tex., from being carried out in the adjoining territory of New Mexico, bill was passed on motion of Delegate Catron (Rep.) of New Mexico, forbidding prize or bull fights in any territory of the United States or District of Columbia, under penalty of from one to five years imprisonment.

The House began consideration of the report of the Committee on Ways and Means, recommending non-concurrence in the Senate free coinage substitute for the bond bill passed by the House last December. Mr. Dingley (Rep.) of Maine, chairman of the committee, spoke for two hours, and at the close of his remarks the House took a recess until 8 o'clock, at which time the debate on the bill was further continued.

Night Session.

The debate on the free coinage substitute sent over by the Senate, was continued in the House in a night session beginning at 8 p. m. There was a pretty fair attendance of members and the public galleries were well filled.

The first speech was made by Mr. Bell (Pop.) of Colorado, in favor of the substitute. He was followed by Mr. Pearson (Rep.) of North Carolina, who avowed his faith that the Republican party would solve the financial question in a way to give the largest possible coinage of silver consistent with the credit of the government.

In the course of his remarks Mr. Pearson indulged in a sneer at the expense of South Carolina for the part which she took in provoking the war of secession. This allusion angered Mr. Talbert (Dem.) of South Carolina, who declared, in a great state of excitement, that South Carolina was right in the position which she then took.

"I am ashamed of any man who endorses secession for the motives which lay behind it," Mr. Pearson said.

"I endorse it," Mr. Talbert exclaimed.

"I endorse every word of secession."

"What has been said," Mr. Pearson went on, "if hell ever breaks loose in this country it will break loose in South Carolina. I believe it."

The spectators in the gallery took sides with the angry antagonists, applauding now this and now the other combatant.

The one and only Tillman had the last word, declaring that "South Carolina never has been and never will be whipped."

When the excitement subsided Mr. Pearson went on with his speech.

Other speeches were made by Mr. Wilson (Rep.) of Idaho, Mr. Snafroth (Rep.) of Colorado, Little (Dem.) of Arkansas, and Linney (Rep.) of North Carolina in favor of the free coinage substitute and against it by Mr. Dennis (Rep.) of Maryland.

The House then at 10:25 adjourned.

Diamond Match Co. Meeting.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—At the annual meeting of the Diamond Match company held to-day President Barber reported that France, Belgium and Italy were the "farmed out" on royalties, and conditions were in prosperous countries with excellent prospects for the use of the patented machines of the company. By improved methods the cost of manufacture has been so reduced that competition has been physically impossible. The profit for the year was $1,501,000. The total surplus and profits were $1,641,573. The old directors and officers were elected and the regular quarterly dividend of 2½ per cent declared.

KENTUCKY'S CONTEST.

A Lively Day But With No Decisive Result.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 5.—The greatest crowd that has ever attended a joint ballot was present this morning. The galleries and lobbies were crowded, and some women were present to see that their fears got the best of them and they went away. The greatest excitement prevailed, and the crowd was with difficulty prevented from pushing onto the floor of the House.

When the name of Senator Hayward was called he asked to be allowed to explain his vote. He said he was for sound money but he was confronted by a peculiar crisis. He was not moved by a threat but in order to secure the greatest good for the greatest number he would vote for Blackburn.

This announcement was received with great applause. Senator Hayward has heretofore voted for a sound money Democrat, Senator Holloway, who has also voted that way, voted for Blackburn.

The Republicans held a short caucus to-night at which Lieutenant Governor Worthington was present. It is said that Worthington in a speech to the caucus asked for Hunter's withdrawal from the race, promising that any other man who was put up would be elected.

The Democrats also adjourned. Senator Bronston made a speech crying out for the sound money men falling for Blackburn. He said if they would vote for him Boore would cast the deciding vote and elect Blackburn.

ASSETS ARE SCARCE.

Newspapers Will Suffer from Harriet Ayer's Failure.

New York, Feb. 5.—Chas. M. Sprague was to-day appointed receiver of the Recamier Manufacturing company of this city, which has branches in Chicago and Montreal on the application of Mrs. Harriet Hubbard Ayer and J. P. Sprague. It was stated that company was insolvent. The liabilities are $[illegible], the greater part of which is for claimed on advertising contracts with newspapers all over the United States. Some of these claims are disputed by the company. Assets $[illegible] in goods on hand, accounts receivable, fixtures and cash, besides which the company has valuable trade marks and formula on which no amount is placed.

SPORTS ARE BLUFFING.

Claim that Congressional Action Will Make No Difference.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 5.—When word reached El Paso to-day that the United States Congress had taken a hand in the suppression of prize fighting and passed a bill making it a felony in the territories, some became alarmed concerning the great carnival which is to take place near here within the next two weeks. The representative of the United Press hunted up Dan Stuart and asked what effect the bill would have upon his carnival if it became a law. "None in the least," said he. "The English Parliament may pass a similar bill to-morrow and still the great carnival will go ahead as advertised."

John J. Taylor, of the firm of Look & Taylor, who have Mr. Stuart's big club upon which the preparations have been made, was seen and Mr. Stuart's statement was confirmed. If those most interested were disconcerted over the news they concealed their feelings from those not on the inside. Mr. Look is in Chihuahua and reports from him are said to be of a character to make the sports feel safe.

Upon the other hand the ministers' union and other parties opposing the fights are confident that the legislation of to-day will be the chief thing that Dan Stuart had of keeping his word. They claim to have positive assurances that Governor Ahumada will not under any circumstances allow the fight in his State and that the "neutral strip" talk is ridiculous.

Cutting Down Expenses.

Kansas City, Feb. 5.—Notice was received by the heads of departments in the Santa Fe shops at Argentine yesterday of a cut of 10 per cent in salaries. No employes were laid off, but a number of foremen were reduced and men under them consolidated with others, thus reducing expenses considerably. At Topeka to-night 300 men employed in the shops were laid off. Of the number 150 are employed in the repair shops. For some months since the Kansas corn crop was assured an extra force has been employed in the repair department, getting the rolling stock in order for expected heavy shipments. Little corn is moving, however, and repairs are no longer urgent.

Denver's Reform.

Denver, Feb. 5.—The board of county commissioners to-day agreed to appoint Attorney Abbott police magistrate in accordance with the wishes of Governor McIntire. This evening the Governor formally appointed Webber president of the fire and police board and the new board will organize to-morrow and prepare for a strong campaign in municipal reform.

Gold Withdrawals.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The treasury department to-day issued a statement of the withdrawals of gold from Jan. 6 to Feb. 5, 1896. From this it appears that the total amount withdrawn for export aggregated $4,904,338; not for export $[illegible]. Total $[illegible].

A Bank Closed.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 5.—This morning the State bank of Mauldee, Sioux county, closed its doors. The cause was extensive investments in real estate amounting to $[illegible] and slow collections. The bank has $25,000 paid up capital. The assets are said to be more than double the liabilities.

Lisbon, Feb. 5.—A bomb was thrown last evening at the house of the doctor who had certified to the insanity of the anarchist who on June 21 threw a stone at King Charles as the King was driving in an open carriage. The house was considerably damaged. Ten arrests have been made in connection with the bomb throwing.

The United States Asked to Give Its View of Arbitration

AND OF WAR WITH ENGLAND.

An Address Issued by a Number of Prominent Chicago Men—Public Meetings Suggested for Washington's Birthday.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—Twenty-seven prominent citizens today signed their names to an address to "the Press and People," which contains the following suggestion of international interest:

"We suggest and propose that the people of all cities and towns of the Union, at their meetings to celebrate the birth of Washington, or at special meetings called for the purpose on the Sunday afternoon next following, or in the meeting of their societies, clubs, churches, social, religious or commercial organizations nearest in time to Washington's birthday, shall embody their views, each assemblage in its own way, on the following questions:

"1. Do we wish the governments of the United States and Great Britain by formal treaty to establish arbitration as the method of concluding all differences which may fall of settlement by diplomacy between the two powers?

"2. What is your opinion of war as a mode of deciding controversies between the United States and Great Britain?"

Dr. William C. Gray, 69 Dearborn street, Chicago, and William B. Bodge, 11 Cliff street, New York, will receive the proceedings, which should be sent in duplicate, and arrange them for transmission to the President of the United States and the Queen of England.

Religious and secular newspapers throughout the country are also requested to give the proposition their sanction and urge the co-operation of the people.

Among the signers of the address are Mayor Swift, Marshall Field, George M. Pullman, Lyman J. Gage, Potter Palmer, Marvin Hughitt, W. T. Baker, Charles B. Farwell, Cyrus H. McCormick, Franklin McVeagh, Lambert Tree, T. B. Blackstone and Francis B. Peabody.

CANADIAN LOYALTY.

The Declaration Receives Unanimous Sanction of the Dominion Commons.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 5.—In the House of Commons to-day Mr. Mitchell (Government) moved a resolution "that in view of the unswerving spirit of loyalty to her majesty's government and the honor of her majesty, the oft-expressed this house reiterates the oft-expressed desire of the people of Canada to maintain the most friendly relations with the kinsmen of the United States."

Mr. McNeill said his object was to show the world that the British people were united and stood together in the common defense of honor and integrity of the empire. He incidentally referred to annexation, and said there was no reason for such sentiment in Canada.

Mr. Davies, Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Laurier (all opposition) and Mr. Foster (Government leader) spoke in favor of the resolution, and it was carried unanimously amid great applause.

BRUTAL MURDER.

An Old Man and His Housekeeper Poisoned with Arsenic.

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—A diabolical robbery and murder was brought to light this morning at 1616 Swain street. The house at this address is inhabited by Josiah H. Richelderfer, aged [illegible], an eccentric man. He had in his employ Miss Annie Tate as housekeeper, and Geo. Barton, about 21 years of age, who acted as his body servant. Yesterday Barton poisoned the old man and housekeeper and while they were suffering agonies from the poison he ransacked the house and fled. The housekeeper died this morning and Mr. Richelderfer is in a serious condition.

On Saturday Barton answered an advertisement of Mr. Richelderfer for a servant. Barton stated that he had recently come from the west and that he had a father and step-mother in Boston and an uncle in Freehold, N. J. Miss Tate and Mr. Richelderfer became seriously sick after eating dinner yesterday. Barton attended the couple and gave them some remedies which he said he had gotten. The last seen of him was about 9 o'clock last night. After suffering all night the old man this morning summoned help and shortly after the arrival of physicians Miss Tate died.

The symptoms of Miss Tate and Mr. Richelderfer were those of arsenical poisoning. Barton secured only a gold and silver watch, a chain, some money that Mr. Richelderfer had in the house, a diamond pin and a pair of opera glasses.

A Pacific Cable.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Messrs. Seymour and Baliss, of New York, the president and vice president respectively of the Pacific Cable company, had a conference to-day with Mr. Doolittle of Washington and Mr. Bennett of New York, two of the members of the sub-committee of the House Committee on Commerce to whom the question of a Pacific cable to Hawaii, China and Japan was referred. Mr. Seymour said the cable would be built if the government would pay a subsidy of $100,000 a year for twenty years. In return for this the government's business will be handled for all time and given the right of way in the matter of transmission. A second cable, he said, would be laid when business justified.

S. N., and Mrs. Herbert; Miss Helen McKinley, the Governor's niece, and ex-Adj. Gen. J. C. Howe. Among the prominent people present were: Vice President A. G. Brooke, of the Pennsylvania railroad company, Col. and Mrs. [illegible] of New York, ex-Adm. Lord of Akron, Judge Ricks of Cleveland, Col. H. C. Sherrard of Steubenville, and Abner McKinley, the Governor's brother, of New York.

FROM THE TRANSVAAL.

Serious Trouble is Still Expected by Americans at Johannesburg.

New York, Feb. 5.—A special cable dispatch to The Journal from Johannesburg, South Africa, says:

The greatest excitement prevails in Johannesburg. The next three days will be anxious ones for all of us here. They will be anxious days for John Hays Hammond as well. However, he and other prisoners continue well, although the jail in which they are confined is very unhealthy.

The Pretorian government has ordered the Boer troops to occupy the heights above the city.

The Germans, incited by Emperor William's message to Krueger, have formed a volunteer force to police the city, and the feeling against them among the rest of the Uitlanders is very strong.

At the election of the Chamber of Mines yesterday Sally B. Joel was elected president and J. S. Curtis vice president.

The remaining members of the executive council of the chamber are still under arrest at Pretoria.

We have heard nothing from New York for the last five days.

Consul Knight wired to the State Department at Washington a week ago but he can get no answer through. He has left for Cape Town.

We are absolutely without any news from the outside world.

The Nicaragua Canal.

Washington, Feb. 5.—It is reported to-day that President Cleveland will, at an early date, send to the House a special message bearing upon the subject of the Nicaragua canal. Meanwhile the subsidy committee of the House Committee to whom the several Nicaragua canal bills have been referred, have begun their sessions with a view to formulating a measure looking to the construction of the canal.

Senator Morgan of Alabama, Chief Engineer Menocal of the navy and other gentlemen will appear before the committee.

A Ship on the Rocks.

Port Townsend, Wash., Feb. 5.—The British ship Kilbrannan, inward bound from Callao to Vancouver, B. C., was driven on the rocks near Point Wilson this morning by a fierce northwester. She was thrown on her starboard beam and heavy seas are washing over her. Her two life boats were carried away in an attempt to launch them and the crew are now clinging to the rigging and exposed to the full fury of the breaking seas. It is not known whether they have been swept overboard. Tugs are standing by but are unable to render any assistance as the Kilbrannan is surrounded by dangerous rocks and cannot be boarded until the water is smoother. The vessel will be a total loss and it is very doubtful if the crew can be rescued before perishing from exposure.

A Probable Lynching.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 5.—Saturday night a negro named Morroe Harrison assaulted a white woman, Mrs. Grissom, at Turcumbia, Ala., and after robbing her attempted to commit an outrage upon her. Monday night he was arrested in this city and to-day the sheriff of Alabama county carried him back to the scene of his crime. To-night a mob broke into the jail with a purpose to lynch the wretch, but desisted for the time being upon being informed that the prisoner had not yet been taken before his victim for identification. At this writing the lynching has not occurred but the mob has not yet dispersed and is expected to proceed with the work before daylight.

Western Passenger Association.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—The transmissouri committee of the Western Passenger association in session here to-day decided to extend home seekers' excursions to Kansas and Nebraska for February and March and to run two excursions in those States in April and one in May. The committee also decided to establish local associations in Lincoln, Neb., and in Colorado common points.

In view of the uncertainty regarding Grand Army and Knights of Pythias encampment affairs for St. Paul and Minneapolis, nothing was done regarding making rates and limits.

An [illegible] has at last been reached with the Rio Grande Western regarding the Utah situation, and at a meeting of the Western Passenger association to be held here Friday next troublesome road will become a member of the association, thus extending the association territory to Utah.

A Railway War.

Perry, Okla., Feb. 5.—Considerable excitement prevailed here to-day over the efforts of the Santa Fe railroad people to clear a right of way through the city. It is feared that bloodshed will follow. The right of way has had many settlers on it since the opening of the strip and recently the district court decided the many cases between the railroad and the squatters, in favor of the railroad and fifty men with moving apparatus commenced work. Several houses are located on the right of way; some are business houses, some residences and warehouses. The fine plant of the Perry Ice, Light and Water company, which cost $[illegible], is also located on the Santa Fe right of way.

A Murder Mystery.

Cincinnati, Feb. 5.—Another sensation in the Fort Thomas murder mystery was sprung to-night by the arrest of a man from Greencastle, Ind., named Scott Jackson. The murdered girl has been identified as Pearl Brant of Greencastle. Jackson admits knowing the girl well, but beyond this statement can throw no light on the case.

Armenian Relief.

Boston, Feb. 5.—A letter received in Boston from Constantinople dated Jan. 15, states that relief work among the Armenians is growing with astonishing rapidity and has now reached a magnitude which is colossal. Missionaries in Trebizond, Erzroum, Bitlis, Van, Marash, Tiflis, Sivas, Cesarea, Aintab, Harpoot, Sivas, Cesarea, Aintab, Marash and Hadjin are all doing more or less in the way of relief and have received appropriations from American and British funds.

Archbishop Kenrick Ill.

St. Louis, Feb. 5.—Archbishop Kenrick has been confined to his residence since Monday night. He is suffering from a stomachic ailment contracted last week while exposed to inclement weather. He is improving and will, it is hoped, be out again in a few days.

Sullivan is Looks Again.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 5.—John L. Sullivan, with his wife and Manager Glickman, left this evening for Fort Worth, Tex., where the ex-champion will join his company and on the 16th will go to El Paso to attend the fistic carnival. His head was swathed in bandages and his face is badly scarred up, but otherwise seems to be in fair condition.

RICH ORE IN SQUAW MT. TUNNEL.

An Eight Inch Streak Assays Over $2,000. Lexington Company Doing Lots of Development Work—A Tunnel for Raven Hill.

Cripple Creek, Feb. 5.—Very glowing reports are coming in from the mining district south of Sherrold, at the junction of Willow and Cripple creeks, and about eight miles south of this city. Some very good assays have been obtained from the ores found and from 50 to 100 men are busy scouring the district and making locations.

About four miles south of Marigold is Packwood, where there are also a great many prospectors at work. A town site is being laid off on the south side of the Bare hills. Assays have been claimed to run as high as 10 ounces from ore taken from the shallow shafts. All this country is tributary to Cripple Creek, and good wagon roads are to be built from these points to the great gold metropolis.

Some very good ore is being found in the Squaw Mountain Tunnel and repeated assays on the ore only go to verify those made previously. Mr. C. G. Greenwold, the president of the Squaw Mountain Tunnel company, showed your representative three assay certificates just made and two of them showed values of $40 and $230 from the big vein now being stripped from and from an eight-inch streak we have worked the assay read $2,000 to the ton.

The Victor Drainage and Transportation Tunnel company has just started work below the Ophelia tunnel, which is being put in by Moffat and Smith. The new tunnel is just south of the Sweet group, and runs directly east under the town of Anaconda and into Raven hill.

The Lexington company is now doing lots of development work. Two of the company's claims, the J. G. Davis and the Jeff Davis No. 2, are being worked under lease by Mike Gilmore and others. On the Clara D., two sets of lessees are developing a strong vein, the claim being situated on Gold hill. The company secured a two years' lease on the Robert E. Lee and will run a cross cut tunnel from east to west across the property. There is also a working lease on the Chance on Gold hill and a contract has been let to drift to the side lines of the claim from the 200-foot level in the shaft. The company employs 25 men on its various properties.

CHICAGO INTERESTED.

Millionaire Gross' Representative Now at Victor.

Special to The Gazette.

Victor, Feb. 5.—Feb. 5.—Mr. Davandercook, the private secretary to Mr. Gross, the millionaire real estate man of Chicago, was a visitor here to-day. Mr. Davandercook comes to say for the Minneapolis Farm property which was purchased some time ago and which is located about two miles southwest of Victor. He will also fix up some other business matters in the district. The Minnesota Farm offers in the district to be worked by leases and it is probable that bonds will be given on small lots. An offer of $[illegible] for a one-tenth interest in the property has already been received. Mr. Gross has also purchased a group of six claims on the north slope of Big Bull mountain, from which some very promising assays have been obtained. He has also secured 70 acres of placer ground.

State Treasurer Harry Mulnix is a visitor in the city. He is here in the interest of an investment syndicate of which he is a member.

The Chesapeake, just north of the Independence, is being worked under lease by three parties. Two of the leases have shipping ore and in the center the surface is being prospected with good results. It is reliably reported that the property is to be sold in a few days at a high figure.

There is a movement on foot among the miners of Victor, and one which is spreading over the entire district, to send a petition to Washington protesting against the manner in which claims are being patented. It is claimed that not sufficient work has been done on many claims for which patents have been granted and that a good deal of false swearing is being done.

MYSTERIOUS ANNA.

Another Big Audience Greeted Miss Fay Last Night.

The Fay, Miss Anna Eva charmed and mystified a very large audience at the Opera House last evening, the first night of her return engagement here. Trickstess, sorceress, fake, mountebank, Miss Fay, she certainly is entertaining, and her entertainment, whether one believes it to be trickery, spookery, theosophy, telepathy, or what not, is truly mystifying.

President Welles of the Board of Trade Mining Exchange, and Dr. C. F. Gardiner, who were called upon the stage during the cabinet experiments, were unable to discover any semblance of trickery. Mr. Welles failed to find any signs of a wild cat, and also reported that there was no "wize" opening into the cabinet. Dr. Gardiner was unable to present any diagnosis, although he showed his skill by the deft way in which he applied the bandage to Miss Fay's wrists.

In the latter part, the so-called somnolency, the alleged explanation of a Denver evening paper was proved to be entirely erroneous by the fact that no pasteboards were passed, so that no impression of the writing could be obtained, and also by the fact that Mr. Bingree stood on the stage through the entire performance and moved about from place to place, so that by no possibility could he pass the questions through any aperture, under the stage. Indeed, most of the questions were answered before they had reached Mr. Bingree and in some cases without leaving the questioner's hands.

A question was asked regarding Lexington stock, and at the close of the entertainment the gentleman who asked the question and who stated he had come for sale, went behind the stage and sold Miss Fay ten shares at 7. Miss Fay believes the stock will advance in a very short time. Perhaps it will.

The engagement of Miss Fay will appear at the Opera House for the last time, all sold this city. The seats are nearly all sold already.

A 40-Minute Battle.

(From a Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)

Havana, Feb. 5.—An official report received here says an encounter has taken place at Manjuari, a town near Mariel, between a [illegible] rebels commanded, by insurgent chiefs Cayzo, Alvarez, Roque, Maceva and others. The engagement lasted 40 minutes. The insurgents lost 62 killed. The Spanish loss was two wounded.

CONGRESS ACCUSED OF MEDDLING.

President and Cabinet Are Not Pleased.

CONGRESS AND FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Do Its Resolutions Tend to Complicate Matters? Pension Night in the House. A Laughable Incident Narrated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5. (Special.) It is not believed by members of the administration and of the diplomatic corps that the Cuban resolutions reported by the senate foreign relations committee will have any effect, even if adopted by both houses of congress. It is a somewhat extraordinary method of expressing sympathy that of asking the mother government to recognize the belligerency of rebels against her authority. While it is true Spain could give this recognition without serious loss, and, in fact, the advantage tactically might be on her side, no one believes the Madrid government will for a moment listen to the proposal. Their fear is the moral effect. President Cleveland and his cabinet, I have good reason for thinking, are not pleased with the apparent disposition of congress to interfere in such wholesale fashion in foreign affairs. They think management of the foreign affairs should be left to them, as was contemplated by the constitution. They argue that while congress may be entitled to its opinion its actions and expressions only tend to complicate our relations without accomplishing any real good.

Chance to Make an Epoch.

General Weyler, the new commander of Spain's forces in Cuba, who will soon be in the field, may be an epoch making general. He has a great opportunity to distinguish himself. If he proves to be a man of swift movement, great grasp of affairs and military capability, he may suppress the rebellion much quicker than any one has hitherto thought it possible. But, on the other hand, if he permits his soldiers to practice cruelty or unnecessary severity in dealings with prisoners or suspected rebels, he will soon have the United States down upon him. I know whereof I speak when I say that between the government of Spain and the government of the United States there is a tacit understanding that the rebellion must be crushed by the time the rainy season comes on again, which is in May or June, or the United States will interfere. It will interfere before then if unnecessary cruelty is practiced. If prisoners of war are shot down in cold blood, if noncombatants are punished as if they were criminals, as was the case in the former war, the administration at Washington will lift its hand and virtually, though at first diplomatically, say that these things must stop.

Spice of a Session.

Every Friday night the members of the house of representatives have a good time. That is pension night. Nothing but pension bills are in order, and though only a few members appear in their seats the debates are often of a most interesting character. Sometimes the speeches are eloquent, sometimes they are sad, — the sufferings and disappointments of victims of the war are depicted, and now and then they are quite funny. It always sounds odd when a member of congress, presumably an educated man, talks in public of "a widow woman." Many members make this mistake, though no one appears to notice it.

Frequently members of congress savagely criticise the conduct of the government pension inspectors sent out to investigate applications for pensions. Recently Mr. McCall of Tennessee asked the house to listen to a story which he had to tell concerning one of these inspectors. "It out-Herods Herod," said he. "It is the case of Mrs. Elizabeth Sanders of Bersyman, Mo., whose husband was shot through seven times during the war. He died, of course. His widow applied for a pension. These spies were sent out by the department. One of them went to this widow's home. He was there for dinner, and during the forenoon she slipped out to her neighbors and borrowed enough stuff to give the man a decent dinner, and she sat him down to a decent dinner obtained from her neighbors. That man reported the fact that that woman had set him down to an excellent dinner as an evidence of her ability to gain a livelihood." This anecdote was greeted with laughter and applause.

For Congressional Trip Only.

It is understood that President Cleveland will soon go away from the capital on another ducking trip. There has been a good deal of comment on the fact that the president is always accompanied on these journeys by his medical adviser, Dr. O'Reilly. I am informed by a member of the cabinet that Dr. O'Reilly goes along not because the president is likely to have need for his services, but because the jolly doctor is a favorite of Mr. Cleveland's and is asked to go for the sake of companionship more than anything else. At the same time it is admitted Dr. O'Reilly would be a handy man to have on the boat in case of accident or sudden illness.

Dr. O'Reilly is a surgeon in the army, with rank of major. He is assigned to duty in the department, and is expected to attend many officers who have need for his services. But this is only nominal. As a matter of fact the doctor has little else to do but to look after his distinguished patient, the commander in chief of the army and navy of the United States, and as General Admiral Cleveland is now in very good health Dr. O'Reilly has what his fellow officers call "a soft snap."

Mrs. McKee of Indianapolis, daughter of ex-President Harrison, is again in Washington and quite active in society. Mrs. McKee is very popular here, and the many friends she made while a member of the White House family are glad to welcome her back to the capital.

WALTER WYMAN.

To Clean White Veils.

To clean white veils make a solution of white castile soap and let the veil soak in it 15 minutes. Then press it between the hands in warm water and soap until clean. Rinse in clear water, then pour boiling water on a teaspoonful of starch, soak the veil in it for a few minutes, and then clap it between the hands until nearly dry. Spread a towel over a pillow and pin the lace in each point smoothly over it and let it remain until perfectly dry.

Henpecked.

"Well, are you satisfied with your husband?"

"Why, I want something new. I have had to look at him and be understanding at home." Harper's Bazar.

Deserved the Promotion.

As the years go by and the war years are told over and over, the deeds done by some of the veterans take on quite phases. In the immediate vicinity of their hearts they do not perceive how they become distorted and magnified, like the spectre of the Brocken when seen through the mists of so many years. For instance, an old high private down east, who really believes he did more than any other man toward preserving the Union, greatly edified the loungers in the village store the other day in winding up a story of adventure. "I was the means that day of saving 60,000 men," said he, and here he sat very erect and held his cane at full length, resting his hands on it, "and, boys, don't you think, General Grant was so pleased with it he wanted to make me a corporal." An Injured Tongue.

Nothing is more alarming than a severe injury to the tongue. It sometimes happens that in falling a little child will bite its tongue completely through, so that the teeth meet and the mouth is filled with blood. Such an accident is not so serious as it appears. The mouth heals quickly, the saliva forming a natural remedy better than any which man has invented or discovered. But to assist nature and stop the flow of blood is certainly important. The simplest way to do this is by sprinkling finely sifted flour into the cut. A child can be coaxed to submit to this treatment if the flour be mixed with powdered sugar. Brooklyn Eagle.

THE FIERCEST BEAST OF PREY.

The white dawn o'er the sleeping forest row
And woke each beast and bird to food or play,
To pass in nature's temple of repose
Their happy, harmless day.

When, crashing onward, through the thicket dim,
And strong with dreadful arts to maim and slay,
Took man the hunter, with his dogs and gun,
His devastating way.

Fear went before him with his victim war,
And each beast owned his dread and ruthless sway;
All nature's children fled the face of man
—The fiercest beast of prey.

ONLY SHOP TALK.

There Is an Occult Charm for Young Men in It, However.

"See that man with Mr. G——?" inquired the bookkeeper of the new clerk, indicating a man conspicuous for his homeliness.

"Ten years ago," he continued, "he came to work where I was employed. He was a smart chap, but the laziest, apparently, ever created. He was so ugly and awkward that he became the butt of all our secondhand jokes. Our head clerk was quite a handsome fellow and very much given to society, and consequently late hours. One day he was worrying Poxey, — our lazy man was called, taunting him in a very manly way about his looks, when Poxey, thoughtfully aroused, said, 'Look here, Sam, I may be ugly, and not such a masher as you are, but in five years I'll show you I'm a better business man.'"

From that time we noticed a change in Poxey. He got permission to take the catalogues home. He would stay at night with the proprietor when all the clerks had gone, helping him with the plans for builders' hardware. At first he was only a live paper weight and kept the plans unrolled, but gradually becoming more and more useful until he was intrusted with the entire work of taking off the hardware and making estimates of cost. Sam was still head clerk, but Poxey was drawing the best pay.

Then came one of those crises in business life which broke up our establishment. Poxey accepted a position with a firm in the same city as manager of the builders' hardware department, and then came, as I have heard him say, the triumph of his life. Sam came to him for a position.

He was weak enough, he said, to remind Sam of the day he had taunted him, but after giving vent to his feelings he thanked Sam for the taunt, saying it was that, more than the prospect of advancement and higher wages, that had spurred him to every effort.

He then used his influence, and Sam was given a position.

"I know a man," remarked the toolman, who had been listening, "who was something like your Poxey. He worked well enough, but slowly. Once he went to see about a position, but the proprietor, a large, dignified man, said: 'You will not suit the position. I want a man to represent me.' With that my friend set to work, and his whole incentive was to show that he could not only represent a proprietor, but that he could become one in his own person." Hardware.

He Wanted Power.

"I suppose you expect to be president some day, Willie?" said the caller pleasantly.

"Not much," replied Willie promptly.

"What!" exclaimed the visitor in astonishment. "Think what a great man the president is, and how great his power."

"Willie likes power," explained his mother, "but I guess he doesn't think the president has enough of it."

"Not much he don't," interjected Willie. "There's always people callin' him down."

"Ah, perhaps you'd like to be an autocrat like the czar of Russia," suggested the caller.

"No," returned Willie emphatically.

"He has heard about the trouble that the czar has in keeping out of the way of bombs," said his mother.

"Well, there are always some drawbacks to positions of great power, Willie," explained the caller pleasantly.

Willie shook his head.

"When it comes to being a big man," he said, "an awful people huddle down to you an all that, I'd rather be janitor of a big flat building than be czar of ten Russias."

"I told you that Willie liked absolute power," said his mother quietly. Chicago Post.

GRANT BEFORE THE WAR.

A Story of How the Teamster Dined at the First Table.

For several years there was much talk about a railroad from Galena to Janesville, the idea being, when once there, to arrange with the then Milwaukee and Mississippi, now the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, to run a line to Janesville from Milton Junction, and thus secure a Milwaukee connection. The line was built from Milton to Janesville, but from Galena to Janesville the road is still an air castle.

A number of moneyed men of Galena had been induced to interest themselves in the project. In 1860 several of these gentlemen, including the banker Henry Corwith, who loaned vast sums of money to Wisconsin lumbermen from 30 to 40 years ago, drove overland to Janesville for a double purpose to see the character of the country through which the proposed road was to run and to consult with A. Hyatt Smith and other Janesville men concerning the contemplated enterprise. Mr. Corwith and his party were met by Mr. Smith and several others. There was a carriage ride in the afternoon. One of the Galena party had not been provided with a seat. He stood in front of the hotel watching the delegations preparing for the trip of pleasure and business.

"Mr. Corwith, that gentleman is of your party, is he not?" asked Hyatt Smith.

"Yes; he came over with us."

"Well, well! I'll sit with the driver, and he can take my place."

"Never mind him, Mr. Smith. Presume he does not care to go. He is our driver."

It was not exactly a banquet they had that evening, after the Janesville people had shown their visitors the town and told them as much in its favor as it would bear, but it was a spread something beyond the average for the little town of 2,000 or 3,000 inhabitants.

"Have you registered?" asked the landlord of a man he saw sitting near the stove soon after the visitors and their entertainers had been located in the dining room.

"No, sir."

"Going to stay with us tonight?"

"I guess so."

"Are you of the Galena party?"

"Yes; I am the teamster."

The landlord stepped into the dining room and said: "Mr. Corwith, your driver is in the barroom. Shall he come to supper now, or wait?"

Some one suggested that he wait.

"No; let him come in. Yes, landlord, tell the captain to come in."

So it happened that Captain Grant did not have to wait and eat with the servants, even if he was the teamster. Chicago Times-Herald.

WOMAN'S VIEW OF WOMAN.

Contrary to the Opinion That Women Do Not Admire Each Other.

Cynics love to assert that women in reality hate one another; that the only genuine mutual sentiment they possess is envy; that their interest in each other is feigned, and gleefully quote in support of those views Lady Montagu's remark, "It goes far toward reconciling me to being a woman when I reflect that I am thus in no danger of marrying one." Not being a cynic, I don't agree with these wiseacres, says a writer in The Jenness Miller Monthly, but am, on the contrary, of the opinion that women admire, appreciate and understand women more thoroughly than men will ever be able to do, and as a logical sequence, I am further of the belief that a man is quite likely to comprehend a brother man more clearly than does a woman, especially if this woman is in love with this particular brother man; there not being the least doubt in the world that love is blind—the love between men and women—and being blind, and hence unable to see, it either cannot perceive at all or else it endows the loved one in imagination with attributes neither he nor she possesses, just as a person born sightless either fails to credit the universe with any qualities whatsoever or else gets an entirely warped idea of it.

The only way to get at the merits of the case is, instead of regarding humanity as man and woman, to look upon them as souls, and thus looking, I, for one, see plenty of charming women souls. I note them in street cars, church and theater, old, middle aged and young, and if I followed out my inclinations I would go up to them and say: "You have such a sweet, refined face. I wish I knew you;" or, "You are just as pretty as a flower" and I really feel quite as much restricted in not being allowed to tell her of it as I would if I were not permitted to ejaculate over the beauty of a rose or, "Your costume shows a rarely delicate perception of harmony in color and form."

But this is a conventional world, so I merely keep my seat and my silence, disputing mentally meanwhile those warped beings who aver that it is not possible for one woman to admire another.

TO CALIFORNIA

Via the Gulf railway is the best route. It is twelve hours quicker to San Francisco and Portland than any other line. Our time is 48½ hours, the shortest ever known. For further particulars call at Gulf Railway office, 14 Pike's Peak ave.

PATRONIZE THE RAILROAD

That favors and helps you. The Gulf road is doing more to advertise Colorado Springs and vicinity than any road in Colorado. It is the only road running a local train between here and Denver. Leaving at 8:30 a. m. and returning arrives at 6:00 p. m.

The way to reach North Cripple Creek is via the South Park Line. Buy a ticket to South Platte station and take Gabriel's stage to the new town. Tickets on sale at 1011 17th street, Denver.

E. K. CARNES,
General Agent, 14 Pike's Peak ave.

NEW ORLEANS MARDI GRAS.

For this occasion the Gulf railway will run through sleepers and sell round trip tickets good fifteen days at one fare for the round trip. Tickets on sale Feb. 13th and 14th. Don't miss this opportunity to see the great southern festival, and at the same time see the best part of the great south in a trip of a lifetime. Make sure you secure sleepers at once.

E. K. CARNES,
General Agent, 14 Pike's Peak ave.

The Gulf railway has made an attractively low rate for the New Orleans Mardi Gras, Feb. 13th and 14th, and will run through sleepers from Denver and Colorado Springs for this occasion. This will give a cheap and splendid opportunity for our citizens to see the great Crescent city and Texas and Louisiana.

UNEASINESS.

If you are restless, or if your children are fussy, or if your wife doesn't sleep as well as usual, hadn't you best think of a little trip to a lower altitude? The gulf coast is quickly reached, and comfortably too. Then we have on sale during the cold months round trip tickets to Galveston, New Orleans, San Antonio, etc., at very attractively low rates.

You would, of course, take the Gulf Road. Through Texas train leaves Colorado Springs at 12 o'clock noon every day.

B. L. WINCHELL,
General Pass. Agent, Denver, Colo.
E. K. CARNES, Gen'l Agent,
14 Pike's Peak Ave., Colorado Sp'gs.

THE MOST PUNCTUAL TRAIN

Service to and from Colorado Springs, is the Pike's Peak and Denver Fast Express on the Gulf railway. This well appointed train leaves Colorado Springs promptly at 8:10 every morning. It makes no difference how late the trains are from Kansas City, San Francisco or other points. You don't have to telephone to know when to start for the station. This train leaves Colorado Springs proper and is for the accommodation of travel from Colorado Springs and Manitou, only. Arrives Denver on time every morning at 10:55. Returning leaves Denver at 4 o'clock every afternoon. Passengers from Manitou should take electric car leaving station there at 7:22 a. m.

E. K. CARNES,
General Agent, No. 14 Pike's Peak ave.
Depot, West Huerfano St., directly on electric line.

UNION PACIFIC.

AN EASY WINNER.

The solid vestibuled trains of the Chicago, Union Pacific and Northwestern line distance all competition with ease. It has the shortest line, union depots, and no change or delay at the Missouri river.

UNION PACIFIC, CHICAGO AND NORTHWESTERN.

Through vestibuled train leaves Denver daily at 10 p. m., arriving at Omaha 4:10 p. m., and Chicago 8:15 a. m., second morning. The excellent and unequalled service of this train makes it the best and fastest train for Omaha, Sioux City, St. Paul, Minneapolis and all points northeast.

THE GREATEST RAILROAD OF THE WEST.

Is the Union Pacific. It is the shortest line to Ogden, Salt Lake, San Francisco, Portland and Montana. It makes the quickest time to these points and also to Omaha, Sioux City, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Kansas City, St. Louis, and nearly all other points in the country. Through sleepers, dining cars, chair cars, coaches and tourist sleepers, East and West.

NOTHING LIKE IT.

Time brings many changes, but the climate of California, "the Italy of America," and the attractions of the many famous health and pleasure resorts, are the same yesterday, to-day and forever.

Tourists never will tire of speaking in praise of the soft and balmy air, the profusion of flowers, the magnificent display of fruits, the luxury of sea bathing and the beautiful walks and drives.

Then, too, it must be conceded that with such excellent equipment, consisting of reclining chair cars, Pullman palace sleepers and Pullman dining cars, all heated by steam and lighted with Pintsch light, the Union Pacific, "The Overland Route," is the tourists' favorite. Ask your agent for tickets via this line.

E. L. LOMAX,
Gen'l Pass. and Tkt. Agt., Omaha, Neb.

A DEMOCRATIC TRICK.

By a majority of one vote, the Senate Committee on Finance has voted to send back to the House a coinage bill exactly like the one already sent to the House as a substitute for the bond bill. All the Democrats voted for the substitute, and all the Republicans against it. The casting vote was that of Senator Jones of Nevada, who went back on his old Republican principles by voting for this substitute.

The object of this move is easy to see. All the Democrats in the committee voted for this "free silver" substitute. They knew it could not possibly become a law, and they did it just to "put the Republicans in a hole." This is "peanut politics" with a vengeance. Imagine David B. Hill of New York, Gray of Delaware, Brice, and Gorman, and all the rest of the Wall street members, voting for a straight free silver bill! But they may do it, not because they believe at all in the bill for which they vote, but because they think the passage of it in that form will embarrass the Republicans, and may perhaps prevent any action on the tariff at this session. They are so in love with a tariff for deficit only, that they cannot bear to see anything else substituted for it; they are so glad to have the government of the United States pay its running expenses with borrowed money, that they will do anything to prevent the Republicans from enacting a measure that will increase the revenue and put an end to the everlasting issue of gold bonds to pay current expenses.

Yes, the object of the Democratic Senators in voting as they did is easy to see. They have played a smart trick on their Republican associates—a trick worthy of Dave Hill in the days when he was in the New York legislature, or of any Tammany member in that body now. They must feel happy over it. We can imagine the oily Gorman rubbing his hands with glee as he looks upon this Machiavellian act, and winking at Bride as the pair of them cast their votes for a straight free silver measure.

We expect any number of our State contemporaries to rejoice over the possible passage of this measure in this way, because it is a free silver bill. Some of them would be happy if Congress should pass a free silver bill, in the same identical terms, every day during the session, and do nothing else whatever. The childishness of passing over again the identical bill which they have already passed, and making both substitutes for measures totally different, would only appeal to their sense of the humorous as being a good joke on the "goldbugs."

The effect of this action would certainly be to injure very materially the prospects of silver legislation for bimetallism, not only in this Congress, but for several years to come. That, of course, is one reason why the Wall street Democrats in the Senate will vote for it. The other reason was that it delayed the passage of a tariff bill.

The only thing that may save the effects of the measure from being disastrous to the silver cause is the fact that the Republican Senators who favor free coinage will not vote for the measure. The trap is too apparent. There are nineteen free silver Republicans in the Senate now, we believe, and we do not think any of them will walk into the "hole" so carefully prepared by Mr. Vest.

Of course the House, even if it should act favorably on the silver substitute for the bond bill, will not stultify itself by enacting the same words over again in the substitute for the tariff bill. Meantime the effect of the vote in the Senate committee cannot help but have a bad effect on the market. The only consolation is that the whole performance is so palpably a barefaced fraud on the part of the Democrats, that it will effectually destroy whatever feeble chance they may before have had left to carry any State north of the Ohio river and east of the Missouri in next fall's election.

NATURALIZATION LAWS.

A recent act of Judge Pryor in New York in refusing to grant papers of naturalization to a number of foreigners who presented themselves for their final papers, who had been in this country the requisite time, but who confessed that they had never read the Declaration of Independence or the constitution of the United States or of the State of New York, and from whom questions showed that they knew nothing of American institutions generally—this act, we say, is one of the most cheering things that have recently come to our notice. The law of New York says nothing about the qualifications of the voters to elect aright, but Judge Pryor declared [illegible] the applicant [illegible] a foreigner who could not speak the English language and who had not read the Constitution. These requirements, he said, are primary and essential, whether the law declares them in specific terms or not.

We wish that all judges were as thoroughly American in this matter as Judge Pryor—who, by the way, is an ex-Confederate; but it is hardly to be expected that they will be. And as they are not, laws ought to be passed making more stringent qualifications for naturalization.

We [illegible] a uniform naturalization law for all the States, but it has not exercised the power, so that the States prescribe the qualifications for voters. In a large number of the western States, foreigners are allowed to vote on the declaration of their intention to become citizens, often when they have been in this country only a year or so, and before they can have learned much about the working of our institutions. In our opinion, no foreigner should be allowed to vote in this country until he has received his full papers, and we think it would be a good idea to extend the period at the end of which he can get these papers, and require seven years, or perhaps ten years, of residence, instead of five.

In the absence of any prescription by the United States Congress, each State may make such regulations on this matter as it pleases, and we hope that the next legislature of Colorado will take up the question and settle it so far as this State is concerned. By requiring the franchise to all foreigners not fully naturalized. That at least would be a step in the right direction.

TILLMAN'S SPEECH.

The comments of the press of this State on the speech delivered by Ben Tillman—we call him so because he resents the conferring of titles in the Senate last week have been generally favorable. Of course they have been thus favorable because the speech was in favor of the free coinage of silver. Colorado papers always comment favorably on speeches with that purpose. On the other hand, the speech has been denounced almost without measure in the eastern papers, not because it was for the free coinage of silver, but because it was couched in coarse and at times profane language. The New York Sun, which is as much opposed to Cleveland as any paper in the country, says of Tillman's speech:

"What has excited the disgust of the whole country with Tillman's performance is not so much his low opinion of Mr. Cleveland's consistency as a statesman as his manner of expressing it. The rough and rowdy South Carolinian stood up in the Senate, where the fiercest oratory is nevertheless gentlemanly in tone and measured in phrase, and vented his hatred of the President in language which if uttered on a street corner, would have led to the police station. Without wit of thought or irony that hurts; without imagination or grace of style, or felicity of expression, or reserve power manifest in the pitch of his denunciation, or any of the qualities that sharpen rhetoric and make it dangerous, Tillman poured forth a torrent of vulgar and monotonous abuse that defeated its own purpose. He proved his ability to free his mind, and nothing more. Almost anybody can do that. He started out to exhibit Mr. Cleveland, and succeeded only in making an exhibition of himself; a spectacle such as has not been seen in the Senate chamber for many years, if ever before. Tillman's method excludes himself at the first application. Hereafter he will be feared rather as a bore than as an assailant."

We have read Mr. Tillman's speech as it is printed in full in the Congressional Record; and as usual we find that the truth in regard to it lies between the two extremes. There is much in the speech that is true, and that is well stated; but there is also much that is put in language which was unfit for the Senate or any other assemblage of gentlemen—much that would have disgusted any ordinary political audience in Colorado.

It may be urged as an excuse for Mr. Tillman that he does not know how to talk without swearing; in fact, he said at the beginning of his speech that he was a farmer, and must talk as farmers do in South Carolina, we suppose; and he made a mock apology for using blunt Anglo-Saxon, the language of the common people. But the apology was only a mock one. Tillman is evidently proud of what he calls his bluntness, what ordinary people would call his coarseness and profanity. We have not counted the number of times the word "damn" is used in his speech, or the number of times the name of the Deity is dragged in to emphasize the declarations of the Senator from South Carolina; but they are used with a freedom and familiarity which states on earth accustomed to the decencies of civilized life.

While this is true, however, and while we do not think there is any excuse for the foul of language Mr. Tillman used—for a farmer, even a South Carolina farmer, when he gets into civilized society, ought to try to restrain his propensity to swearing and vulgarity—still there is a good deal of truth in the ideas which Mr. Tillman expressed in his wild barbaric way. We do not endorse all of his ideas, by a good deal; but if he had left out his diatribes against the President and Cabinet, and used decent language to express the remainder of his speech, it would have made a favorable impression.

One point that the South Carolina Senator made was very well put. He took the figures of the national debt at the close of the war, and showed how many bushels of wheat, and how many pounds of cotton it would have taken then to pay it. He took also three other periods since the close of the war, and showed that while the national debt has been steadily decreasing, the number of pounds of cotton or bushels of wheat it would take to pay it has been steadily increasing; so that now, when the debt is more than half paid, it would take, at present prices, more than twice as much of either of the two staples mentioned to pay what is left of it than it would have taken in 1865 to pay the whole of it. These arguments may be explained away by political economists; they may be sophistical in principle; but they are the sort that appeal to the people, and we are not at all sure that they ought not to have a good deal more weight than political economists generally incline to attribute to them.

[illegible] the general opinion of Tillman's speech, he has accomplished the object which he had in view in making it. He has put on record his opinion of the President and his cabinet; he has aroused the denunciation of the [illegible] Republicans of the West to join with the silver Democrats of the South [illegible] of the people against trusts and monopolies; he has said that Lincoln is his ideal statesman, and thereby as it were extended the right hand of fellowship to the Republicans who agreed with him on this political question; and he has made himself the predestined leader of the revolt from Cleveland which will come next summer. This is probably all he expected to do, and as his success must be measured by his desires, the speech must be pronounced successful.

The people of Colorado should insist at the next legislative session on the separation of the State government from Denver's city administration. There is no reason why Colorado Springs and Pueblo and Leadville and other cities and counties should pay taxes to govern a city which seems incapable of self-government. If the people up there haven't sense enough to run their city politics with some regard for decency and honesty, they deserve to be robbed and misgoverned. It is an outrage to make it a part of the duty of a State officer to do a duty which belongs to Denver people alone, and which they are too lazy or too indifferent or too corrupt or too altogether all-around chumps to perform.

The recent slumpy condition of the stock market has been very salutary in its effects. It gives us time to take a breather and to think. The east is now such a heavy holder of Cripple Creek securities that any bearish tone to the market of the eastern centers is more strongly felt here than it used to be. Evidence of this was seen in the recent unsettled feeling there over the bond issue, and war rumors which has done much towards the slump here. In the meanwhile Cripple Creek continues to progress and many of those stocks which have declined in price in the past thirty days have increased in real value.

Everybody will be glad that the St. Paul has been pulled out of the sand at Long Branch, and floated again without breaking up. Americans are proud of the American liners, and would have been very sorry to have one of them lost. The investigation into the reasons of her going aground will now be in order. Her captain says that it was not because he wanted to make port before the Campania. But the Campania anchored in the fog, and waited till her captain knew where she was. Certainly the American captain ought to have been as cautious as his British colleague. He must have known, or ought to have known, that he was getting close to shore, and should have taken no chances in such a fog of running on the coast.

We believe the action of the school board of this district in requiring tuition from the children of parents whose legal residence is not in this district, and who do not pay taxes on property in the district, will be generally approved. It is not fair for this district to furnish free tuition and supplies to all the people who come here for the purpose of putting their children in school, but whose domicile is maintained in another district, and sometimes even in another State. As a matter of equity, it seems fair enough to remit from the tuition fees the amount of school tax actually paid on property situate in this district, although the law does not require even so much concession as that.

The retirement of General Harrison from the Presidential race is commented on mainly for the effect it is supposed to have on the chances of the other candidates. The general opinion seems to be that it will help McKinley by giving him the majority of the Indiana delegation. It is too early to tell exactly what the effect will be, but it ought to simplify matters a little.

The law which makes the Governor of the State perform some of the most important duties of Mayor of Denver is not a good law; but Governor McIntire is executing it to the best of his ability, and his action in the matter of the Fire and Police Board will receive the hearty approval of all good citizens, without regard to party lines.

Everybody wants to know, you know, whether the bottom has been reached in the stock market. This is something that is hard to tell; but it is certain that good dividend paying stocks are mighty cheap just now, and will prove a good investment for any one who buys in at present prices.

The listing committee of the reorganized Board of Trade is hard at work, and it is said they will make a very thorough revision of the list, on conservative and safe lines. In this they will be upheld by public sentiment.

Currency of Russia.

There is no doubt that the Russian empire aspires to return to specie payments on a gold basis. But the methods adopted differ widely from those employed by other countries. Austria-Hungary, for instance, began by fixing a relation between its paper florin and the new gold crown, and then contracted foreign loans to obtain the necessary gold. Experience, however, showed that it was impossible to maintain the new relation of the moneys in the open markets; the Austrian exchanges rose above the new parity, i. e., gold remained at a premium, and thus the whole "Monetary Reform" of Austria-Hungary has remained nominal, and practically there is still a paper currency. The most remarkable feature in this connection is that the paper money of Austria, with the gold at its back, is worth to-day less than was the same paper money without any gold backing.

Russia is beginning the task at the other end. She gradually accumulated a large stock of gold. Then she endeavored to get some gold into circulation in order to accustom the people, who so far only knew paper, to the use of metal money. In addition to this she issued gold certificates, which were to be taken as money. For these certificates a ratio had, of course, to be fixed in relation to the paper rouble, and this ratio was taken at 1.40 roubles for the half-imperial, being 115 paper roubles for 100 gold roubles, corresponding to a quotation of the St. Petersburg Exchange in Berlin of 215 marks. So careful, however, was the Russian government as to fixing any gold price for the rouble, that it was explained at the time that this ratio was subject to revision, in the sense that the rates might be raised, though the government engaged not to lower them. This very proviso however defeated the objects of the Russian government, for the gold certificates of a changeable value in the currency of the country proved very unpopular. The government has consequently taken another step, still cautiously but yet more decisively than heretofore. They have fixed the gold rouble for a whole year, [illegible] January [illegible] The price is not quite the same [illegible] but a little less favorable to the paper money, viz., 15 paper roubles for the imperial, or 7½ paper roubles for the half-imperial. The object of this alteration is stated to be to facilitate the exchange of the two currencies, for instance in valuation gives a relation of two to [illegible] current year all government offices, as well as the [illegible] will lay aside [illegible] will hold, at the above rates. This practically fixes the value of the paper rouble for this period, and Russia may thus be said to have made a practical beginning with the introduction of an effective gold standard. That she is in a position, if so willed, to adhere to this policy cannot be questioned, for on December 25, 1895, the Imperial Bank and the treasury held between them 6,547 million roubles gold, which represents 61 per cent. of the nominal value, and 91½ per cent. of the effective value, of the paper roubles in circulation.—(The Bimetallist, (London.)

GEO. KROUT SENTENCED.

The Express Robber Got Off With Five Years.

PLEAD GUILTY TO THE CRIME.

Other Court News—The Trial of Wm. Gibson for the Killing of Officer Shea at Victor—Evidence for the Prosecution Introduced.

George E. Krout, the agent of the Wells-Fargo Express company, who robbed the company of $2,000 in this city, plead guilty to the crime yesterday and was sentenced to the penitentiary for five years.

At the opening of the afternoon session of the first division yesterday Krout came into court accompanied by Mr. McAllister, the deputy district attorney, and entered a plea of guilty. The proceedings were very brief. Mr. McAllister stated to the court that this was the man who had robbed the company and that he was ready to plead guilty. Judge Harris asked him a few preliminary questions regarding his age and his family, whether it was his first crime, etc. He answered these and then the judge sentenced him to serve five years in the penitentiary.

Sheriff Boynton then took charge of the prisoner and last night took him to Canon City. It was just two weeks from the day he was arrested that he was sentenced.

Krout's father left last evening for Illinois on the Santa Fe. No one familiar with the case believed that the old man was guilty of wrong, and the express men helped him get home. This closes up one of the most interesting and sensational cases in the history of the city and the west. The robbery of the company occurred on the 11th of November, 1895, the robber was arrested on the 9th of January following, all of the money secured and the thief sentenced on the 5th of February.

The Gibson Case.

At the opening of court yesterday morning Judge Harris overruled the dilatory motion made by the counsel for the defense in the case of the People vs. Wm. Gibson. A motion was then made offering a plea in bar. This was also overruled. The trial then proceeded on the evidence for the people. Mr. Crowell made the opening statement for the people.

During the day about ten witnesses testified for the State. Among those were two who testified that they saw Wm. Gibson fire the shot that killed Officer Shea. Others swore that they heard the Gibsons talking during the night and that Wm. Gibson had said that they would "get" Shea before morning.

The case for the State will close this morning. What the defense will be has not yet developed, but it is rumored that it will be an alibi.

Colorado's Young Men.

The State Committee of Colorado Young Men's Christian Associations have planned a very attractive and interesting programme for the delegates who attend the 12th State convention at Canon City, February 13th to 16th. The opening session will be held at the Presbyterian Church, Thursday, February 13th, at which time Rev. W. H. W. Hoyt, D.D., of Colorado Springs, will deliver the address on "God's Young Man." The following prominent speakers are on the programme Friday and Saturday:

Major Elijah W. Halford, ex-Private secretary of President Harrison; Prof. W. F. Slocum, Jr., LL.D., president Colorado College; Rev. Horace Sanderson, State superintendent Home Missionary society; J. T. Axton, Salt Lake city, Utah; Prof. E. S. Parsons, Colorado Springs.

Saturday afternoon will be devoted to a pleasure trip through the Grand Canon of the Arkansas, stopping at the Royal Gorge and other points of interest; fare only 35 cents.

A grand gymnastic exhibition has been planned for Saturday evening, to be given in the opera house by a class from the Pueblo association, in charge of Physical Director Rex Lemon. Mr. James Naismith, physical director of the Denver association, will also be present, and will deliver an address on "Modern Athletics and Gymnastics."

The Sunday programme will be a fitting close to this interesting gathering. The delegates will occupy the various pulpits in the morning, and Evangelist C. L. Kirk, with his gospel singer, F. L. Ingler, have been secured to take charge of the mass meeting for men, which will be held at 4 o'clock. Sunday afternoon, at the same hour, there will be a meeting for women. The union mass meeting at 7:30 will be addressed by Chancellor W. F. McDowell, LL.D., president University of Denver, subject, "Are Men Kings?"

The committee have been fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Cecil L. Gates, secretary of the International committee, to take charge of the Bible studies. Prof. G. W. Brierly of Denver will have charge of the music.

All the railroads in the State will sell round trip tickets for one fare, good going February 11th and 12th, and returning the 17th.

The invitation is extended to pastors and young men in towns where there are no associations, and delegates are assured of entertainment free, provided they write William G. Lotze, state secretary Y. M. C. A., Denver, three days previous to the convention. The full programme can be secured on application to the State secretary.

"Trilby" Coming.

"Trilby," the most successful play written in many years, which is now the reigning success, will be presented at the opera house next Monday evening. All the beautiful scenery, costumes and original music will be brought direct from New York and the company will be under the direction of William A. Brady. There was no difference of opinion among the members of a large audience gathered together to witness the first representation on the stage of DuMaurier's famous novel. The favorable verdict was unanimous. The play "Trilby" is a grand success and will become as popular as this novel. The attention of the audience was won at the beginning and the interest kept up to the end. Mrs. Potter has made a play that fairly teems with action and dramatic effect. Every situation is reasonable and natural. There are no anti-climaxes, no repetition, no theatric devices, and the development of the story is logical and consistent at all times. A company of admirable players has been brought together for the interpretation of "Trilby." Every role is taken by a competent person and there is an attention to minor details that is most commendable.

Prof. Bristol's Educated Horses.

In speaking of Prof. D. M. Bristol's wonderful horses, who will appear at the opera house Friday and Saturday, the Brooklyn Daily Times said: "Prof. Bristol and his school of thirty trained horses took possession of the Novelty theatre stage last night. They were greeted by a large audience who applauded often. The professor has his work admirably and his pupils are thoroughly trained. They do what they are told without the slightest hesitation, enter into the spirit of the entertainment as though they enjoyed it as much as the audience. Many of the animals are beautiful, all are clever, and one a diminutive mule called Denver, possesses much good looks and a remarkable amount of comedy talent. He does everything in a comic manner, as if he knew he was funny—and is one of the best taught animals in the school. It would take too much space to describe all the clever things the horses do, for the entertainment is a long one and all is good. A concert is given."

A Very Useful Map.

A topographical map of the Cripple Creek, north Cripple Creek and West Creek gold belt, showing the section, township and county boundary lines, rivers, creeks, railroads, wagon roads, towns, postoffices and surveyed and unsurveyed lands has been received at this office and it may be said that it is quite the best thing of its kind that has been seen.

As well as the map which is very complete, there is a comprehensive digest of the Mining Laws taken from the United States statutes and the acts of the State legislature. The work is in a convenient form for the pocket and altogether is a most useful addition to the outfit of the prospector while it is equally as useful to the lawyer and anyone interested in mining. It is the copyright work of W. H. Montgomery and C. E. Hagar.

Mines, Stocks, Investments

Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Colorado Springs, Feb. 6.—Business at the Exchange to-day fully justified the improved showing of the previous day. Stocks were very busy and prices made a decided improvement, with every evidence of heavy buying orders. Isabella showed up remarkably well and gained nearly 1 cents over the previous day's quotation. It started to sell at 52, but before the close as much as 55 was paid for it. The stamped stock sold to the extent of 4000 shares, all of which brought 51. Creede and C. C. G. was fairly active at 6½ and 6¾, and the same cap. of Sale of Oriole, which dropped back at one time to 4½. Pharmacist remains about the same at 16¼, and Union also is stationary, selling at from 40¼ to 40½. Work is lively, as over and shared favorably. The first sales in it were made at 17¼, but it gained a cent before the close of the call. Marion Gold was very lively at 11¼, with a point less bid for a good many thousand more. Consolidated was one of the heavy sellers of the call, and was among those that impaired its condition. The first trade in it was made at 19½, and it soon went up to 17, closing at 17¼, though at one time it sold as high as 17½. The total sales for the call amounted to 370,000 shares.

Geo. V. Sims Here.

Mr. Geo. V. Sims, chairman of the listing committee of the newly organized mining exchange in New York, arrived in the city yesterday. He reports the affairs of the new exchange to be in a very favorable condition and adds that many good and influential people have joined the organization of late.

Over 150 brokers have joined the exchange, the majority of whom are New York men, though the list includes the names of Boston, Philadelphia and Denver men. The first 250 members paid $250 for their seats but $50 is now being paid for them and the number who can gain admission at this figure is limited to 50. Seats are now being purchased by members of the New York exchange for their representatives. They do not care for mining stocks on the New York exchange but it is thought that that organization will come to recognize the new exchange as the official one for mining stocks. The board of governors has lately been increased from nine to twelve. This was to permit some of the pioneer men who have joined to feel that they see that the thing is a success, to be represented in its management.

About thirty Colorado stocks have been listed and about twenty others have been secured from Montana, Idaho and California. It is the intention to make the New York mining exchange an national one. Mr. Sims and other members of the committee have been very much pleased with the expedition with which the business of the exchange has been organized and put in operation.

A special train of 50 has been engaged to take members of the exchange from the city to the opening of the exchange in Colorado Springs on the 10th of February. Governor Waite has been invited to be present and will be accompanied by his staff. The opening address will be delivered by Governor Waite, President Hagerman, president of the Colorado Springs exchange and President Stevens of the Cripple Creek exchange will also be present and will be accompanied by the brokers of Colorado Springs.

Trinidad Officers.

At the regular meeting of the Trinidad mining exchange the following officers were elected: [illegible] Hagerman, president; [illegible]

A consolidation of the three exchanges of the state is being urged by members as the proper business move, but up to this time the members and brokers of the several associations have taken no steps in that direction. It is admitted by all that there should be but one exchange in any city, and that better results would be achieved if they were consolidated, but the directors are proceeding in their several ways without any immediate prospect of bringing them together.

D. C. Kling has put a whim on one of the Cumberland group, lying to the right of Mound City. The shaft on this particular property is 70 feet deep on a porphyry vein, which is now 20 feet wide between granite walls.

Good reports are coming from Straub Mountain and there is every day more reason to believe some big mines will come out of it.—News.

Subscription to the Stock Completed—Paid Up Capital of $50,000.

The Boston subscription to the Raven Gold Mining company, with mines at Cripple Creek, Colo., is completed. The capital stock is 1,500,000 shares, with a par value of $1. The company has a paid-up cash working capital of $50,000 and reserves in its treasury 500,000 shares. The company resumes work at the mines under the most favorable auspices, with a working plant fully equipped, the property opened up for immediate ore breaking and shipment to smelters, ore bodies blocked out at an estimated value of over $500,000, and having properties of several hundred thousand dollars large results may reasonably be expected from the property, located as it is in the central gold belt of the Cripple Creek district and adjoined by rich producing mines—the Elkton, Doctor, Moore and other well-known dividend paying properties. It is a feature to store such an operation as this of several hundred thousand dollars, in a market like this, and would indicate a very promising property or great personal skill in raising so large an amount at this time. But, perhaps, both elements have contributed largely to the successful outcome in this instance, which is largely owing to the personality of Mr. J. Parker Whitney.—(Boston Ex.

Current News.

The Puzzler, just north of Cripple, made a shipment a few days ago to the Omaha and Grant smelter.

It was reported on the streets yesterday that three feet of ore assaying $65 had been found on the Swift lease on the tenement.—(Cripple Creek Times.

Waters Brothers of Denver have purchased a half interest in the Directory, adjoining the line, with the Lincoln. The consideration is understood to be $25,000.

Milo A. Smith of Denver has purchased of C. S. Hooper his bond and lease on the Era, lying southeast of the Independence. The bond is for $50,000 and $10,000 was paid for its release.

Total shipments from the Squaw Mountain tunnel for the month of January reached ten car loads, one-half of which went to the smelters, the other half to the cyanide mill at Florence.

The Gamma lode, one of the Humboldt Consolidated properties, is not being worked at present, for the reason that a steam hoisting plant is being put in that is necessary in prosecuting development work on the claim, assays from which are good.

W. H. Stuart of Victor has sold 11 claims on the south slope of Bull hill to T. W. Bannan and associates of Denver for $25,000. Mr. Bannan intends the formation of a stock company, who will push development work on the properties. Although only prospects they are good indicators of future wealth for owners.

A one-half interest in the Notre Dame has been leased to Charles Bonnell and E. A. Tunnell of Denver by Kimball Brothers, who retain the other half interest. Contracts have been let for sinking some 50 feet on each of the claims and from what Kimball Brothers say and they are practical and experienced miners, some mighty good ore will be shipped soon.

Cow mountain, and consequently Gillett, are enjoying a very healthy boom in the last few days. It is reported that the peculiar cinnabar and quartz is assaying very high. Town lots are in demand and one party who purchased four lots, beginning at a corner, for $250 three weeks ago, sold his corner lot alone yesterday for $1,250 to Mr. Bloodmore of Kirksville, Mo., who will erect a hotel thereon.

The Northwestern, on Squaw mountain, is now down 84 feet and any crosscutting from that depth of the shaft and are now in ore that runs about two ounces. They are sinking 100 feet further on the main shaft at which they have a well-defined vein between walls in place.

A story is current on the streets today to the effect that the Jefferson, on Gold hill, has cut what is supposed to be the Genesa ore chute. Some people doubt the runior. However, the management of the property refuse to say anything concerning the matter.—(Cripple Creek Times.

A good strike is reported on the Ontario, one of the properties of the Boston and Cripple Creek company, located east of Tenderfoot, north of Galena and west of the Lincoln mines. The company recently put on the property one of the most complete plants of machinery in the district, and the news of the strike was most unexpected. It is said is in granite, and if the report proves true, a second Lincoln has been opened in the granite country.

Three sets of lessees are reported to be pushing work on the Elizabeth Cooper. Five shifts are at work and the number will be increased in a few days to eight shifts. Some ore taken out resembles that from the Doctor mine and there is little doubt but the Doctor vein has been located on the Elizabeth Cooper.

The London tunnel has started the ore through Mt. Pisgah from the south-east side. It will be driven in the east side of the mountain and again a depth of from 70 to 100 feet. A short year the tunnel the is said to have opened a vein of 21 feet with a reported streak running 200 to the ton.

The Union Gold Mining company, owners of the lease on the three-hundred foot level of the Independence, report the cutting of a fissure and phonolite dyke on the extension of Mr. Lamm, the cutting of which will increase the value of the property. The stoping is very good.

The Jefferson mining claims on Gold hill, Cripple Creek, known as the Mamie and Meehem, have been sold to a Denver and Pueblo company for $100,000 cash. The Denver parties are Dennis Sheehy, Frank C. Young, W. C. Winkoop, George D. Meehem and M. A. McIntyre. The purchase is represented

Stupid Remarks.

A flimsy little sheet issued by C. J. Kelly, 1438 Curtis street, Denver, and headed "Colorado Mining Stock Price Current," in its issue of Jan. 30 saw fit to make some very silly and biassed remarks about the Isabella company. A check is made that no information about the company could be obtained which is other nonsense. It may be said without the slightest fear of contradiction that there is no company in Colorado which has so complete a record of every thing done. Every foot of work done, the cost of every foot of work, every pound of ore shipped and the value of every pound of ore shipped as well as a record of every cent received and spent by the company are kept and these things in all their minute details can be seen at a glance of the accounts.

At this time there is not the slightest excuse for the silly complaints of a hot-head, as the company has only just issued its annual report and last year Colorado Springs papers have all published detailed accounts of the company's affairs.

Sacramento.

[illegible] originally given on the property, the leases having been bought out.

Now that the company is in possession a new shaft house will be erected and a steam hoist purchased and put in place. When it is in working order the shaft will be put down to a depth of at least 100 feet and a mine made out of this very valuable property.

EASTERN MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, Feb. 5.—Money on call has been firm at 6@7 per cent. Last loan at 6 and closing offered at 6. Prime mercantile paper 6@7 per cent. Bar silver 78½c. Mexican dollars 63@64c. Sterling exchange dull, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.86@4.87 for 60 days and $4.87@4.88 for demand. Posted rates $4.87@4.88. Commercial bills $4.85@4.86. Government bonds higher. State bonds quiet; railroad bonds steady. Silver at the board was dull.

Business at the stock exchange was virtually crowded into the last hour of trading, and during this time commission houses had no reason to complain of a lack of orders. Early in the day brokers and operators were waiting to hear from Washington in the matter of the bond issue. The success of the loan was practically assured weeks ago, but the amount of the bids, nearly six hundred millions, simply astonished the street. The price, too, was a great deal better than expected, the average being about 110. The syndicate bid, it will be remembered, was under 105. The magnitude of the bids and the prices tendered led to general buying of the market and prices moved up anywhere from ½ to 2½ per cent. Sugar was a feature, and after falling from 94½ to 93¾, rose to 100¾. The early gain was the result of the passing of the Sugar bounty bill in the Senate. In the last hour the shorts were the most conspicuous buyers. Leather preferred moved up from 69¾ to 77¾, on reports from Boston that the money for the February coupons had gone to the bank. The Western stocks, such as St. Paul, Rock Island and Burlington and Quincy, were in better demand on the splendid showing of earnings recently published. Speculation closed strong, with quite a strong tendency. The total sales were 500,000 shares.

Bonds were active and strong. The sales footed up $1,944,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—The wheat market this morning was in exact contrast to that of yesterday. Strength was the predominant tone where yesterday all was weakness. A gain of ¾ to ⅞ of a cent was recorded at the opening, an explanation of the change in sentiment being difficult to find. At the end of the first 30 minutes the buying became furious and prices had advanced a cent and a half from the then ruling quotations within a very short period. It was learned when the dust had cleared that New York had been buying, and that many foreign buying orders accompanied by advices of serious damage to the Argentine crop. The advance met with determined but futile resistance, hardly a pause taking place until 87c for May was touched. The routine statistical information was commonplace. Receipts in the Northwest were 416 cars against 461 last Wednesday and 301 a year ago. Chicago received 145 cars and inspected out 61. Liverpool opening cables were higher and firm. Continental markets were quiet and firm. Bradstreets reported a decrease in the world's available supply, exclusive of the Pacific coast, of 2,000,000 bushels during the month, the first time stocks decreased during the month. After the announcement was made the market fairly boiled, advanced fractionally but failed to hold, and yielded to the weight of the Argentine shipments. Export clearances were 375,000 bushels. At the close there was a rally from the inside. May wheat opened from ⅛ to ¼ higher than yesterday, sold up to 87c, and between 87c and 86¾c, closing at 86¾c, a shade higher than yesterday. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 60 cars.

Corn responded feebly to the heavy of wheat early. Heavy selling by commission houses, however, soon had a depressing effect, and the market ruled weak. Receipts were 26 cars.

The Cadet Glee club will give its annual concert on Thursday evening, Feb. 20th. This date was decided upon by the club several weeks ago, and has been rigidly adhered to ever since.

Mr. C. M. Christy has just returned from a three months' visit in Iowa at his daughter's, Mrs. John W. Garrett, in Cedar Rapids, and his sons, in the northern part of the State.

Dr. Horn, who has been practising medicine here for 20 years, says that there was more sickness in the city during January than in any previous January since he has been here.

A meeting of the King's Daughters of the city is to be held Friday at 11 o'clock in Coburn library. Trustees will be appointed and steps taken for the incorporation of a society for the management of the Ernest Whitney boys' club.

Albert Noble, one of the men who committed the famous Florissant robbery seven years ago, was sentenced at Trinidad on Tuesday to be hanged for the killing of a policeman. Noble has only been out of the penitentiary a year or less.

Mr. George Bentley and family left last evening on the Rock Island for Topeka, Kans., to attend the funeral of their friend, Mr. Kellam, who died from injuries received on the Midland Terminal at the time of the accident two weeks ago.

The W. C. T. U. will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in their rooms. It will be a business meeting and for the reception of new members. All strangers interested in the work are cordially invited to be present. There will be a meeting of the board of managers.

The Von Bora society of the First Lutheran church will meet this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the parsonage, No. 509 East Platte avenue. All members are urged to be present, as a report of the year's work will be made, and officers elected for the ensuing year.

A book social will be held in the Second Presbyterian church, corner of Washington avenue and Seventh street, this evening. A short literary programme will be given. Each lady is requested to bring lunch for two. The admission is 10 cents and a box of lunch 25 cents.

It is with much pleasure that the Colorado Springs Musical club calls attention to the Sobrino concert to be given Monday, Feb. 10 at 8 p. m. in the Unitarian church. The club, under whose auspices Mr. and Mme. Sobrino will appear, desires to assure the public that the concert will be a treat to all who attend.

The ladies of the First Congregational Church will hold their annual Valentine social this evening at the Alta Vista. These are always very pleasant occasions and have a large attendance. All members of the congregation and especially new comers are cordially invited. There will be a postoffice and also a large number of hand-painted valentines will be on sale at very reasonable prices.

Many of the bicycle dealers are arranging with the Denver firms to have exhibits sent here for the bicycle show. Denver declares the big show there worth traveling some distance to see. The Colorado Springs bicycle men are taking considerable interest in the local affair and will make it a success, too. It will be a fine chance to learn about wheels and to make a selection of the wheel you are to ride this year.

Ladies having seen and ordered costumes from Moschcowitz of New York, now at the Antlers, go away charmed with the exquisite style, material and workmanship. As Mr. Moschcowitz remains but a few days longer ladies desirous of having all the newest fashions for spring wear should find it to their advantage by calling before he leaves. Although this is the first exhibit Moschcowitz has made the elite of Colorado Springs have placed their orders with perfect confidence.

None but Ayer's at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed an exhibit at the World's Fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the World's Fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

The little daughter of Mr. Fred Weffber, Holland, Mass., had a very bad cold and cough which he had not been able to cure with any thing. I gave him a 25 cent bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says W. P. Holden, merchant and postmaster at West Brimfield, and the next time I saw him he said it worked like a charm. This remedy is intended especially for acute throat and lung diseases such as colds, croup and whooping cough, and it is famous for its results. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains nothing injurious.
